Admission to Tsinghua Shenzhen International Graduate School 2026 (For International Students)

About Tsinghua SIGS

Tsinghua Shenzhen International Graduate School (SIGS) is a public graduate education institution jointly established by Tsinghua University and the Shenzhen Municipal Government against the backdrop of national efforts to deepen higher education reform and promote the development of the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area.

Tsinghua SIGS has set up academic disciplines that promote interdisciplinary research and learning, including Materials Science, Data Science & Information Technology, Biopharmaceutical & Health Engineering, Ocean Engineering, Future Human Habitats, Environment & Ecology and Innovation Management. These efforts position our school as an incubator for future educational reforms. Oriented to scientific and technological frontiers, our students are ready to become future innovation leaders who will initiate pilot schemes and tackle real-world challenges.
